CONTENTS

1 X Leatherette Plate

Place the bib on the tank. At the front end place the belt without tighten it yet.
At the rear end it has to be mounted together with the bolt that holds the tank.
The hole on the belt must be drilled by you as the leatherette is a soft material and sometimes if made by us could be either stretched more or less than needed.

For that reason the best way is to make the drill directly when placing the bib. It can be done with many ways and its really easy as the belt is soft. It doesn't matter the size of the hole but not more than 10-15mm as it will stay in place by the rubber ring of the tank.

2

Center the bib by placing the hole over the gas cap and pull back the cover by 10-20mm. When you will start tightening the front belts you will realize if you need more or less adjustment.

We have 2 things in our mind: center the gas cap and the bib to be as stretched as needed.

3

Make the needed adjustments till the bib gets in place and tighten everything when finished.

The end result should appear as in the photo
